Work Will Start on the Pollinator Garden in June!

Suzanne Paul, owner of Wilmot-based Terra Niche, is building us a pollinator garden!

Pollinator-friendly gardens support native bees, honey bees, butterflies, hummingbirds, and other pollinators. Pollinators visit flowers to collect food in the form of nectar and/or pollen.

To provide maximum benefit for pollinators, the garden will have a diverse mix of flowering plants that will provide a sequence of blooms from early spring to late fall.

Planting is dependent on the weather, so keep an eye out for progress at the Red Barn. Watch us bloom!

May was a Great Month for WCA Events

Bird Walk at Langenau Forest!

On May 20, a small group of intrepid walkers joined Bill Chaisson to catch some feathered friends in their natural habitats.

Undaunted by somewhat soggy conditions, the group heard a wide variety of birds - and caught glimpses of a few.

Red Barn Clean Up

Members of the Wilmot Community Association's board of directors, friends and partners worked the morning of April 29 spiffing up the front yard and other landscaping at the Association's Red Barn, 64 Village Road, Wilmot.

Green Up Wilmot

The 17th annual Green Up Wilmot townwide cleanup was a huge success! More than 90 people helped pick up trash along road sides in late April and early June.

All major roads in town were "adopted" and many others, too. Thank you one and all
